Practice Focus and History

Charlie is a senior corporate attorney with more than 40 years of experience.

He is a Principal with Life Science Legal LLC and serves as a seasoned advisor for pharmaceutical and biotech companies with both human health and animal health interests.

He has served primarily as in-house counsel for a major pharmaceutical company (Aventis U.S and its predecessors, beginning with Marion Laboratories then Marion Merrell Dow and Hoechst Marion Roussel). Working in the pharmaceutical environment, he has gained extensive experience in mergers, acquisitions, in- and out-licensing, business and product line acquisitions and divestitures, joint ventures and other strategic business alliances. He also has experience in the full range of research and development activities, including clinical trials (from pre-clinical through Phase IV), technology transfer and software licensing.

In his pharmaceutical and general career, Charlie has also acquired extensive experience in finance, real estate, international, and corporate governance matters.

Having begun his pharma career joining Marion Labs in the mid-1980s he advanced from corporate counsel, to Vice President and General Counsel of its Global Drug Development Center in central New Jersey. There Charlie managed a department of 30 professionals in the USA and Europe and worked in areas supporting and advising senior management, the strategic and business development executives of the company worldwide, research and development activities and several areas of general corporate practice.

Charlie holds a Juris Doctor degree from St. Louis University and is a member of the Missouri Bar, although his pharmaceutical practice has involved advice to pharma companies across the United States and Europe.
